Arcade hours split council

The pinballs continue to bounce in Dysart's arcade by-law controversy.

United township's council, which was considering legislation enforcing a recent amendment to the by-law extending its provisions to all coin operated amusements, received presentations from three local businessmen, two of who were seeking exemptions from the statute on Monday.

Wes Good, owner and operator of the Video Attack in Haliburton village, and Peter Kanters, of the Green Lake Resort in Guilford, both said the present by-law was unfair to them.

Good told council he was prepared to live within the terms of the by-law and he felt he had shown his willingness to cooperate and maintain a decent establishment.

However, he told council the age and hour provisions of the arcade by-law made it difficult to run his business.

"It's really choking us," Good said. "We've proven we're good business people, interested in a clean operation." Good said that he had received no complaints about the use of drugs, alcohol or profanity in his establishment and asked members of council pointedly if they had knowledge of any complaints.

Good also said that he had ejected 163 under 16 year-olds in the first two weeks of operation. "I don't feel it is fair we should have to evict people who want to have fun," Good said.

Good told council he watched the under-age customers walk across the street to play with games located in unregulated businesses. "It's very hard living under the by-law when others are exempt," Good said.

Good requested council to amend the by-law to allow youngsters over 13 years of age to patronize the arcade without parental accompaniment.

Good also requested that the hours of operation prescribed in the statute be extended. He said that when he closed at 8 p.m. his customers were either going to other, unregulated businesses to use the games or were loitering in front of his establishment. He questioned the desirability of this situation to the town.

"I feel we have proven ourselves," Good said. "I'd appreciate some relaxation of the hours."

Good offered to trade extended hours of operation in the summer for reduced ones in the fall. Good said he would be willing to stay closed until 4 p.m. during the school year. He said this would stop any students from being attracted to his business during school hours.

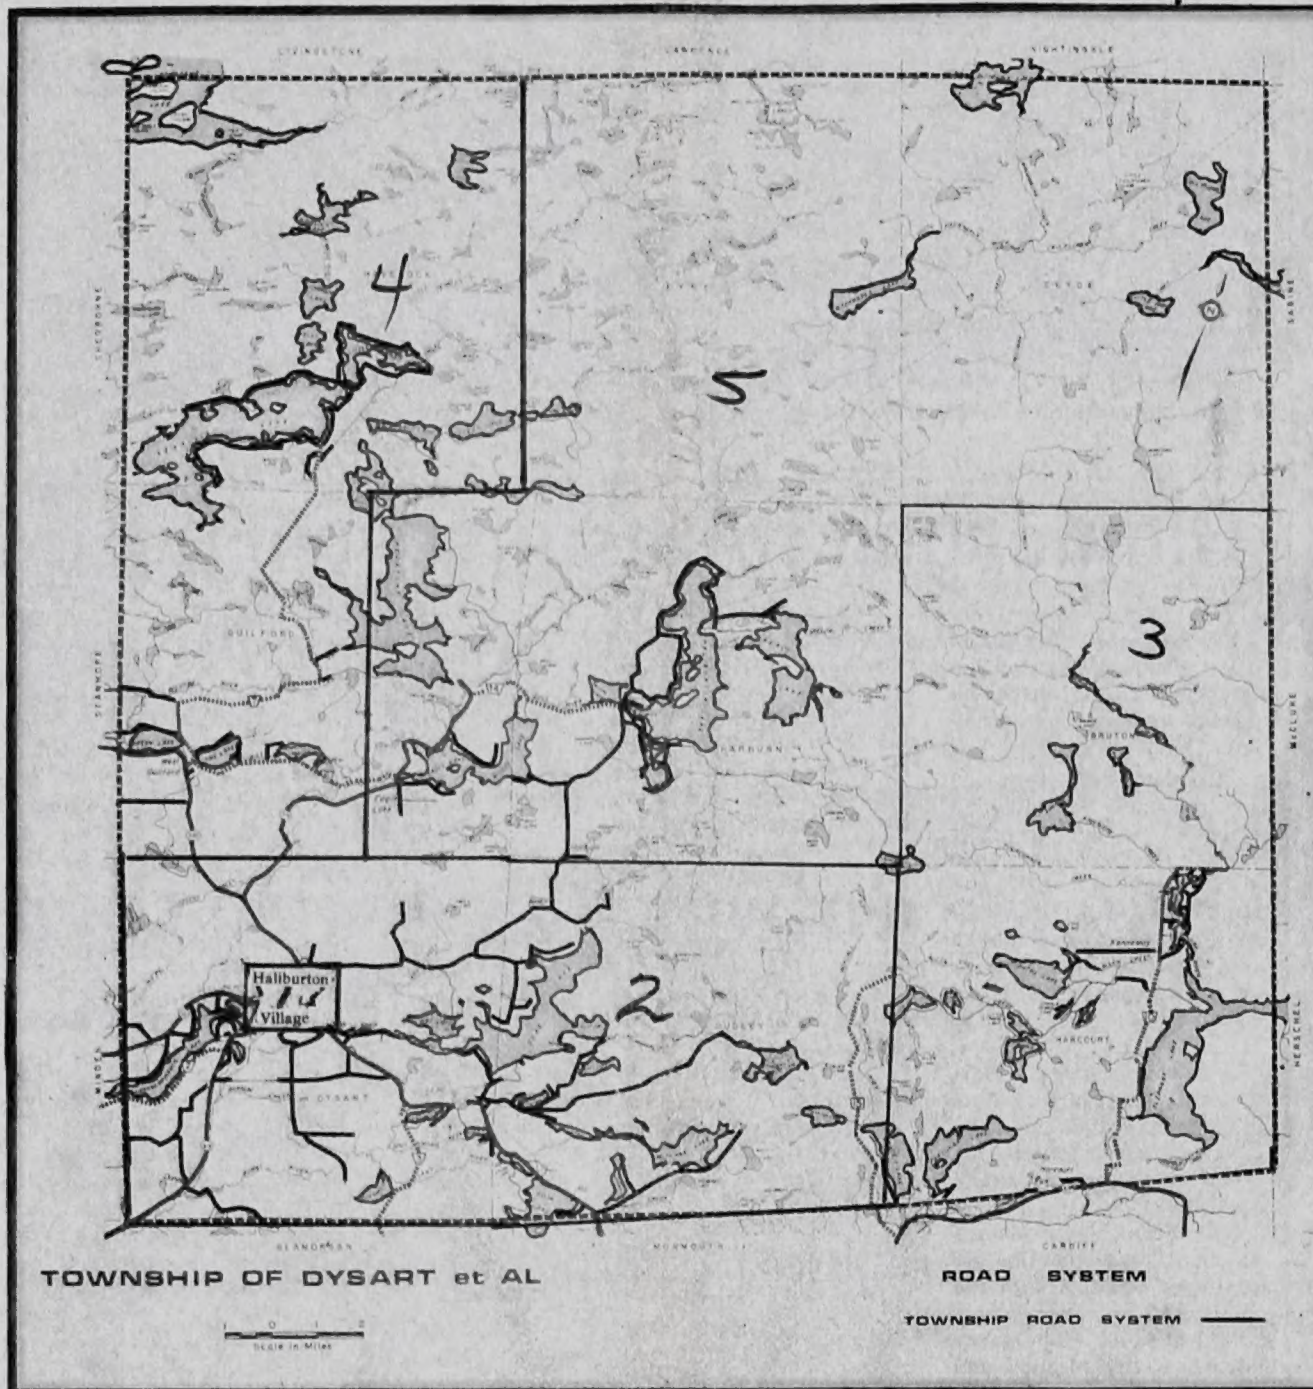

Council later rejected this argument since, under the statute no arcade can admit students during school hours.

Deputy Reeve Harold Bannon told Good he was not certain about his requests. "I'd like to see you keep to the 16 years," Bannon said, referring to the age limit. "It's damned difficult to throw out twelve and 13 year-olds when others are staying with their parents," Good said.

Good also asked council for an opinion as to the legality of his accepting notes from parents, signed in his presence, giving permission for under-age children to use the machines.

Reeve Murray Fearrey told Good, council would consider Good's proposal but indicated that he should not hope for too much. Fearrey pointed out that Good's operation could not be treated in an isolated fashion.

"If the by-law was designed only for Wes Good I would agree," Fearrey said. However Fearrey, a noted opponent of arcades, stated that he could not support any amendment since he had opposed the application originally.

This map illustrates the approximate boundaries of the proposed wards being discussed by Dysart council. Wards 3 and 4 are new creations and will give residents of Harcourt, Guilford and Havelock more of a voice on council.

"I'm not against you," Fearrey told Good. "I'm just against these things."

Kanters also requested that council grant him exemption from the by-law. Kanters said his four pinball and two video games, which are located in a restaurant and store, should not be considered in the same class as Good's arcade.

Kanters said the by-law should apply to the village of Haliburton only and not to outlying areas of the municipality.

"I didn't cause any trouble," Kanters said. "I have to make a living somehow." "I've got nothing against the by-law," he added.

Another local businessman, Larry Medley, was also present at the council meeting. He told council that several lawyers had expressed the opinion that the township's by-law "was not worth the paper it's printed on."

Medley said that it was ridiculous for the townships and local businesses to become involved in a situation in which only lawyers would end up making money.

Medley said he did not understand exactly what the purpose of the by-law was but said he wondered if it was not to make running an arcade difficult. He contrasted the present condition with the negotiations which led to a 1979 by-law that governed coin-operated amusements until recently.

In response to comments from council Medley defended Wes Good's requests and said, "Obviously the reason he is here is he can no longer live with the by-law." Medley said he doubted anyone could live under the terms of the statute.

Good said that if council did not take some remedial action they might find the by-law increasingly difficult to enforce. "Probably there are loopholes," Good said. "People will start looking for them."

Good told council he did not want to get off topic by talking about lawyers and lawsuits. He said he felt the amendments were not out of line.

"As long as we are talking there is no problem," Good said.

Council reached no decision on legislation to enforce its amendments to the by-law, adopted at the last council meeting.

Councillor Roy Brohm, who introduced the amendment to council accused his colleagues of renegging on their commitment.

"You agreed to an amendment," Brohm said. "Please turn to Page 2

Wards will be altered

Dysart voters will gain improved representation if a proposal under consideration by united townships' council is approved.

Reeve Murray Fearrey introduced a proposal at Monday's council meeting which would have meant the reorganization of the boundaries of the present wards without increasing the number of seats on council.

Fearrey said council had considered the question of increasing representation on council four years ago. At that time no modifications were made. The present ward boundaries have been in place since 1954.

Fearrey said some modification of the wards was necessary "in fairness to the eastern part of the township." Fearrey noted Harcourt residents could not influence an election significantly enough to gain representation on council under the present system.

Councillor Gary McNight noted the difficulty a representative had in responding to constituents' complaints and inquiries under the present system due to the large geographic areas covered.

Councillor Harold Bannon agreed with the reeve on the necessity of modifying the present system. He stated that adjusting the boundaries might not be enough of a modification however.

"I think we should go to five wards," Bannon said. "That's what we talked about before."

"If you go round the county you've got Monmouth, Glamorgan, Snowdon, Lutterworth and Stanhope; they're all one township and they've got five councillors. We've got nine townships and we've only got five councillors."

Reeve Fearrey said the present ward system was no longer fulfilling its intended purpose and was open to criticism on that basis.

"The ward system was designed to give equitable representation," Fearrey said.

Councillor Roy Brohm stated he did not want to see a "cottage council" elected as the result of any amendments to the ward system.

Council agreed in principle to the idea of enlarging the council to seven men - five councillors, a reeve and deputy reeve.

Legislation will be tabled at a special meeting of council to enable the new system to gain Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing approval in sufficient time for the fall elections.

Freak storm hits

A freak storm slashed a ten mile wide path of broken and up-rooted trees, scattered debris and poured down blinding rain last Wednesday.

The storm hit Haliburton County early in the afternoon and appears to have developed in the Brady Lake area.

It swept across the entire length of Kuschog Lake and along the line of lakes from Beech Lake to Eagle, Moose, Redstone and Haliburton lakes before passing out of the inhabited area of the county.

The storm caused power failures all along its route as trees and tree limbs brought down hydro lines. Among the areas affected by the blackout were Carnarvon, Halls Lake, Maple Lake, West Guilford, Eagle Lake and Fort Irwin.

Despite reports to the contrary the storm was not a tornado or "twister". According to Phil Graham of Ontario Hydro the storm was a "down-burst windstorm".

The freak weather condition is about as destructive as a tornado in a general area, but does not have a focus of severe devastation.

Graham said the storm, "Really wiped things out. The effects were limited to an area from the west side of Brady's Lake to Haliburton Lake, about ten miles wide."

Graham said that the storm was quite unusual. "We had everyone's power pretty well restored by Thursday afternoon," Graham said. However Hydro work crews were still clearing up debris and making repairs as late as Friday.

Graham said that localized blackouts such as the one last week are not unusual in the wake of severe storms.

"The wind is our biggest enemy," Graham said. "The wind and the trees."

The good times will roll in Wilberforce

The good times roll in Wilberforce this week-end as the annual festivities enliven the community for three big days.

Activities begin early Friday evening; the midway, concession booths and food stands will open at 6 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded for the best entry. Parade chairman George Grant and Carman Coumbs can be contacted for more information.

Contestants in the traditionally "professional" amateur contest, will be on stage in the arena at 2 p.m. Donna Herbert is organizing the event.

The old fashioned fun continues throughout the day in the community.

Acid rain studies continue at centre

APIOS lab expands experiments

Investigations of the effects of acid rain on the environment continue quietly in the outskirts of Haliburton County. Thirty five government employees and university students strategically gather information daily and analyze it in a series of experiments.

This year the Acid Precipitation In Ontario Study (APIOS) laboratories in Muskoka is expanding to include more biological experiments on more organisms in the aquatic life.

Last year the Ministry of the Environment purchased ten acres within a few miles of the Haliburton County border, to establish a more permanent site for the laboratory. Long white trailers now are situated on the site which began to take shape last fall.

The site is on the opposite side of Plastic Lake where the ministry previously rented property. The meteorological site where wet and dry fall out from the atmosphere is collected, is located on rented land near the trailer site. The ministry plan to move the meteorological site onto its property this year.

Ron Hall, a stream biologist, is one of two people presently working on the new biological experiments at the centre but that number is expected to increase in the next few months as the project becomes fully developed. "It just seems like we're booming," Hall said at the site last Thursday.

The new biological experiments include testing on small organisms such as amphibians, flies and "fish - food" organisms. Laboratory testing is coupled with field testing to determine more conclusive results.

"We're trying different approaches so we can put it all together," Hall explained.

Organisms are sorted and placed in plastic containers with wire mesh inserts (to allow to flow through) and placed in eight test waters the ministry has been working with.

Lakes where the test waters are under the supervision of the ministry are Red Chalk, Blue Chalk, Plastic, Crosson, Dickie, Heney, Harp and Chub.

Hall, an American who has been involved with testing in the acid stress Adirondack regions of the eastern United States as far back as 15 years ago, sees the new experiment as important in the argument against the emissions causing acid precipitation.

The key to the experiments is to discover the levels industry must reduce their emissions to before the effect on the environment will be un-recognizable.

With current economic conditions causing a shut down at INCO's smelter in Sudbury, the group hopes to learn more about the pollution and prove that emissions from other areas, including coal burning companies in the United States, effect the Haliburton/Muskoka lakes and how they do so.

Testing at the centre not only provided more information of the acid precipitation impact on the area, it is giving the scientists previously unavailable data on the natural environment.

Hall expects that the biological testing he is involved with could take five years to complete and, possibly, 10 years. He emphasized the importance of gathering long-term data that can offer a comprehensive base for conclusions that will be drawn in the future.

"There are always small victories. Every year, we're making more and more progress," Hall said.

Since the ministry moved to its new site last year, three groups involved in deciphering the problems of acid rain and its effect have enjoyed "very much more coordinated efforts", according to Ron Reid, supervisor of the project.

John Munro, of the toxicity department's fish program, has been involved in testing the effects on fish for approximately two years.

One of the more important aspects of Munro's experiments has been to measure the toxicity threshold levels of pH and other contaminants found in fish.

The level of contaminants that cause mortality in fish or change their systems are gauged by both laboratory and field experiments.

Lake and brook trout and small mouth bass are common species used in testing while northern

Altering the wards

The proposal to alter Dysart's ward system and create two new council seats represents one of the most significant and positive steps the united townships can take.

Dysart has had a three ward system for nearly 30 years. While this system may have served the municipality well in the past it is not immune to criticism.

As Reeve Murray Fearrey pointed out, residents in some areas of the municipality are unable to elect a councillor to represent their particular interests due to an unequitable distribution of population in the wards.

While the democratic process necessarily entails the concept of majority rule it is also essential that the minority not be prevented, either by gerrymandering or under representation, from making their position known in the councils of government.

The move also indicates that Dysart's progressive attitude is still with us. Adjusting the ward system indicates that council is forward looking; considering the problems of future councils and constituents.

Dysart has indicated this attitude in the past. It, alone among area municipalities, has adopted an official plan to guide the community's development. And it has built a fine park to enrich the lives of this generation and generations to come.

It is certain that this move will alter the complexion of civic politics to a considerable extent. A larger council will be able to represent a larger cross-section of public opinion as well as give the community's problems and issues a more penetrating analysis; a more thorough consideration.

The people of Dysart should view this issue with more than passing interest. The results of the upcoming council decision will affect the local government for more than the next three years.

The people ought to make their opinions on this matter known to their representatives so that any council decision can reflect their concerns and considerations also.

Gallery must grow

The Rails' End Gallery in Haliburton has unfortunately become the site of a great deal of controversy in the past week.

The question of relative rights and wrongs of the various parties involved in the curatorial confrontation pale when it is realized that the difficulties the gallery is enduring at the present time may affect the institution's credibility in the future.

The Guild of Fine Arts board of directors in firing Lucinda St. Pierre, the museums first full time curator, has not done itself or the gallery any service. This is particularly true since it has refused to make public its reasons for the action.

It does not reflect well on an institution when decisions that will alter its future can be made hastily and in secret by a group of individuals who are scarcely known to the community.

It might be argued that the directors' actions reflect a purely private, housekeeping matter and that since the guild is a private organization it is not open to public scrutiny.

This is a specious rational. Since the gallery is partially funded by the community at large it should be open to the community's supervision. And although a personnel matter may be too sensitive to make public, if it results in the dismissal of a prominent employee a public statement should be made.

Besides this the controversy raises the question of whether the gallery should be supervised by the same board of directors as the guild at all.

There can be no doubt that the interests of the gallery and the guild are no longer synonymous. More people are aware of, and are interested in, the gallery than are involved in the guild.

The time has come for the gallery to assume a more independent status. It should have its own directors, distinct from the directors of the guild, who should be drawn from the community at large.

Gallery situation angers readers

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Since Sue Cooper is making so free with her opinions, I feel obliged to add some of my own.

Where is it written that a young woman, who I understand to be a relative newcomer to this village, and is hired by The Echo to be a reporter-photographer, has the right to voice her opinions about such a sensitive problem as the Guild of Fine Arts has been dealing with for the past few months?

Her job, as I understand reporting, is to report facts; all of them, not just the ones that happen to bolster her particular thoughts. It seems obvious she has been listening to a very small group of board members, most of whom are also fairly new to the area and not at all to the majority of the directors and members for whom these past few months have been very unpleasant.

The gallery should be for everyone, no one disputes that. Of course we must be exposed to the work of the "big name" craftsmen in order to learn, grow and improve, no one disputes that either, but not to the exclusion of showing the work of some of our own excellent artists.

When some of them are told month after month by the curator that their work is either not acceptable or not required, it gets a few backs up.

Also, many of the very necessary volunteers have dropped out as the atmosphere in the gallery has been rather strained and they have said to themselves and each other "who needs it". Let us hope this will now change.

I have noticed the tension in the gallery on the few occasions I have been in lately, even though I'm inclined to be a fence-sitter and have not taken sides. I can see what Lucinda has been trying to accomplish, she has worked very hard and I admire her for giving it a good try against difficult odds, but because of her youth and inexperience no doubt she hasn't gone about reaching her goals very diplomatically.

There are no easy answers to this problem. I certainly don't know any after nine years as a member and two as a director and would not presume to suggest any. Niether should Cooper.

In a recent column I made mention of the fact that only two Canadian flags were flying in Haliburton on Canada Day, these being at the Post Office and in front of Banks Fruit Market.

Since that time I have been taken to task by two business people about the flag issue. I am sorry that I missed seeing the flag in the window at the Village Shoppe and Pat and Harold Kennedy of Kennedy Surplus and Exchange tell me that they always had a Canadian flag flying over their store but they can't keep them. It seems that vandals come along and either tear them down or take them home for keepsakes.

On Tuesday, July 6 while reading Gary Dunford's column in the Toronto Sun I came across an item that caught my eye and at first glance I knew it had some local flavour. They were saluting the Home Hardware store in Newmarket for saying goodbye to the penny. It seems that week-end customers to this store have noticed that for two week-ends running - bills for, let's say $5.97 are rounded off to $5.90. According to the write up customers remarking on the odd discount get the answer that the store thinks pennies are "too much trouble". All bills are rounded off to the nearest nickel, and always downwards. The owner of this store is Gerry Langdon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Langdon of Haliburton and brother of Ken, the present owner of Blacks Home Hardware in Haliburton.

Get ready and get set to make your plans now to be in Wilberforce this week-end Friday, Saturday and Sunday, July 16, 17, 18 for the annual Country Good Times week-end. The week-end promises to be a good one and will feature among many other things the best in fun and entertainment with plenty of fun for both old and young alike. Just a few of the many features you will see if you attend this event are: a midway, concession booths, a beauty contest, dances at the arena and Lloyd Watson Centre, a ladies softball tournament, a flea market, a bake sale and bazaar, a monster parade, an amateur contest, a pancake breakfast, and an arts and crafts show. You name it and you will find it at the Country Good Times week-end. If space allowed I could go on and on telling you about the many different events that are planned for this annual affair. Plan now to take along the entire family for plenty of fun and frolic. You won't want to miss one exciting moment. The main highlight of this week-end is the monster parade which will get underway at 1 p.m. on Saturday. If you have never seen this parade you should take it in this week-end. It's well worth taking the whole family to see.

Haliburton County was comparatively underdeveloped and not too well known to most of the Ontario populace prior to the thirties when Bruce Mills first started to sketch and paint its natural art forms. A native born Toronto man with a career in architecture and the arts he discovered the territory at the beginning of the decade. Bruce and his wife were cottagers here for many years and then when he retired they decided to move to Haliburton permanently. Just recently they moved to Lindsay, Ontario. When Bruce first came to Haliburton it was a love affair at first sight and subsequently whenever time would afford, he used his training in the arts to capture on sketch book and canvas the spirit and feeling of this land. The Agnes Jamieson Gallery in Minden is now presenting Bruce Mills "Half A Century of Interpretation Via The Visual Arts" from July 13 to July 28. Much of his work has been exhibited through the years in various galleries and public buildings and is held in public institutions and private collections in Canada and the U.S.A.

In an effort to keep the 4C's (Christian Community Concern Centre) in Haliburton in a good financial position the leaders and local churches have been holding some fund raising events lately to raise this money. They have another one coming up this Thursday, July 15 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the 4C's when they will be presenting a garage and bake sale. If you would like to donate to this sale please call Ruth Gorrie at 286-1485.

The Haliburton Midget hockey club, which gave us so many hockey thrills in the spring when they reached the All-Ontario Midget Finals, have received one of their rewards for their all out effort. The players and management are now sporting new jackets in the blue and white colours. You will go a long way to see a jacket that looks any smarter than those being worn by the hockey players at the present time.

Congratulations are in order to Mr. and Mrs. William Dugan of Lochlin who recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Last Wednesday night I had the opportunity of attending the open house at the new Harvest Dining Lounge on Maple Avenue in Haliburton. The new owners, George and Elaine Schmid, are to be congratulated on the wonderful job they have done in making this dining establishment one of the finest in the County. It's a bright and cheery place to eat and we wish the new owners the best of luck in the future.

Ron Myatt and Sid Brazier will be the guest speakers at the Full Gospel, Businessmen's Dinner meeting this Friday evening, July 16 at 7 p.m. at the Royal Canadian Legion at Haliburton.

VIEWPOINT

Pic of the Past

Our thanks this week to Allan Cowan of Haliburton for giving us permission to use this photo that takes us back to the year 1940 showing the kitchen and main building of Paradise Lodge when it was one of the top resorts in the Highlands. The lodge at that time was owned and operated by Neil Kingston who later sold to Fred Beavis, Toronto Alderman.

Mike Doherty was the last owner and following a fire about five years ago that destroyed the main building it was never re-built. In years previous to 1940 the property was used as farm land and the four Cowan brothers Allan, Arnold, Walter and Earle were born in the building pictured above.

Opposition to provincial tax growing

Queen's Park

John Eakins MPP

As opposition to the Miller sales tax proposals mounts, it was revealed, according to Rick Hession, an owner of several McDonald restaurants, that about 800 less summer help would be hired this year. Many groups appearing before the committee hearings have echoed the same message: unless changes are made by Davis or Miller, employment in Ontario will be greatly affected.

Of the 70 groups to appear at the committee hearings, it was summed up best by Francis Deck of Frans Restaurants in Toronto, when he addressed the committee:

"As my colleagues from the Ontario Restaurant and Foodservices Association pointed out earlier today, employment will suffer in our industry. I plan no student employment this summer. The recession, coupled with this latest tax, will affect our restaurants enough to warrant a cut-back in summer help. Our service to our customers will not suffer - as a businessman I know too well that any cut-back there will reduce our chances of survival - but any chance of providing additional employment for students, women, and the unskilled who often gain entrance to the work force through the hospitality industry, has been crippled.

"If this committee could hear from some of my senior patrons they would appreciate the anger and bitterness out there in Ontario. These are the people who built this province. They suffered through two world wars and a major depression. They survived. Now, in the final years of their lives we reward them by filching 7 per cent from their meagre incomes.

"This is political stupidity. It negates all the good things that we do for our seniors in this province.

"It reveals a mean-spirited streak that has no place in our province."

In Victoria and Haliburton counties, municipal and school board budgets will be adversely affected, and this will probably mean higher municipal taxes.

I have received a large volume of mail: both private letters and petitions. I can only hope that the Treasurer will realize that he is hitting the people who can least afford to pay, and bring about the following changes: Exemption of sales tax on prepared meals costing under $6, exemption of sales tax on hygienic products, such as sanitary napkins, toilet paper and soap, exemption of sales tax on energy conservation and alternate energy products, exemption of sales tax on items purchased by municipalities, boards and agencies for public purposes, exemption of sales

More letters to the editor

To the Editor:

As a member of the Guild of Fine Arts, I and many of my friends are deeply saddened by the controversy over the firing of the curator. But what is most disturbing is the fact that Sue Cooper did not wait for the Board of Directors to explain its position before condemning the members in such a harsh way.

The 15 directors are highly respected citizens of our community and to state flatly that they do not have the best interest of the gallery and the public in mind without knowing what the reasons for their action are, is, to put it mildly, rather presumptuous.

I am also puzzled by some of the other statements made, such as that St. Pierre opened the doors of the gallery to all the members of the public, not just the guild. It was former, interim-curator Carole Finn who with the help of dedicated volunteers turned the railroad station into a professional art gallery and introduced Haliburton County to the works of internationally recognized artists.

An article, written by Echo editor Len Pizzezy at that time, stating these facts won him a prize. Notwithstanding St. Pierre's abilities and hard work, attendance records at the gallery have been consistently down during the last year. A glance at the old guest books will show that it was the general public, not just guild members who flocked to the station in very large numbers.

While it is true that the gallery and guild receive grants and pledges it is interesting to note that proceeds of sales and crafts by "mediocre hobbyists", as Cooper calls local artisans, provide most of the funds needed for the upkeep of the gallery and the salary of the curator.

If it was not for the annual sale of arts and crafts, the gallery would have to close its doors.

Judging from the article, it seems that we are being asked to make a choice between arts and crafts, professionalism and amateurism. The guild's mandate is to foster the development of arts and crafts and there is plenty of room for both in Haliburton County.

In the past, the gallery and the guild existed happily side by side at Rails' End. Without any doubt, our community was richer for it.

Leopoldina Dobrzensky

To the Editor:

We would like to express our deep concern and regret that Lucinda St. Pierre was fired last week.

She has met the needs of both the students in our schools and the general public very well by bringing a taste of culture into Haliburton County that has touched all of us to some degree.

Her excellent work in the elementary and secondary schools has served as a catalyst to ignite the spark of creativity and help further the development of artistic skills within many local young people.

St. Pierre has also broadened our artistic awareness and appreciation of many art forms by bringing in talented artists from all over the world.

A communication problem appears to exist between the people involved; Lucinda St. Pierre and the Guild of Fine Arts board of directors, both probably have valid complaints. Nevertheless, these differences surely can be resolved by opening the channels of communication through frank and honest discussion.

Many of the difficulties in communicating our thoughts and feelings, whether they be on a very personal level (ie: between husband and wife) or at a more professional level as in this instance, are due to the fact that all of us are hesitant to speak our minds, to clear the air, to discuss differences of opinion with honesty and frankness.

Instead, we often keep our feelings bottled up inside us until they explode out of all proportion.

From observation at a distance and hearing the rumbling of rumors run rampant, I suspect that this issue has also escalated to the point where it is almost too late to rectify the situation.

The board of directors has not stated its reason for this dismissal. It is unfortunate when an organization such as the guild, which is supported to a great extent by public funds, decides to take it upon itself to waive its accountability.

This leads one to speculate as to the validity and soundness of its reasons for such a drastic action.

We are deeply dismayed that Lucinda St. Pierre has been fired and only hope that it is not too late for the doors of communication to be re-opened, the terms of reference as to job specifications to be re-negotiated and some amicable and satisfactory agreement to be reached between the board of directors and the curator.

St. Pierre is a valuable asset to our community. It would be a shame to lose such a talented and enthusiastic member.

It is hoped that all members of the guild will attend the general meeting held next Monday, July 19 to publicly support the re-instatement of Lucinda St. Pierre as curator of the Rails' End Gallery.

Batters accumulate 11 home runs

Construction gang wins 2

Beachli team came from behind in the sixth to win the match

Beachli Construction won two games and lost one in recent men's softball action. The Construction gang blanked the Legion 4-0, doubled Haliburton Lumber 8-4 and lost to Curry Motors 6-4 in last weeks action.

In the game against the Legion both teams did poorly through the first three innings. In the first inning Beachli registered strike-outs from John Wilson and Chris Hodgson. The Legion registered a strike-out from Stuart Baker in their half.

In the top of the second Legionnaire Ron Perrin struck out as the Legion nine went three up and three down. In the Beachli half John Robinson hit for two and stole one base but the next three Beachli batters struck out.

Gary Burtch repeated Robinson's play in the third but was unable to finish the circuit when the next three batters fouled out.

Beachli finally got on the scoreboard in the bottom of the fourth when Hodgson hit a homer.

The fifth was scoreless for both teams.

In the sixth Beachli finally got down to playing the game as they picked up three quick runs.

Mark Schell hit a single when his grounder eluded the pitcher. He was brought in by Hodgson's three base smash. Earl Bull was hit by a pitch and stole a second base. A sacrifice hit from Pete Fearrey brought Hodgson and Bull home to give Beachli the game.

In their meeting with the Lumbermen Beachli did well in the opening three innings but fell apart in the end four and made no runs.

Beachli started the game strongly when Dave Nicholls knocked a home run. Although Hodgson got to first on balls no other Beachli player made the circuit that inning.

In the second inning Beachli's Robinson hit for a base and went on to steal one. Bull took a base on balls and Fearrey's single was good for an RBI.

But Wilson was definitely the star of the second his three RBI homer giving Beachli a five point lead over the Woodies. Nicholls picked up another run for Beachli before the half was over to give the squad five runs in the inning.

In the third Fearrey hit a single which was sandwiched between strike-outs from Bull and Gary Burtch. Wilson came through again, however, with another homer giving Beachli its seventh and eighth runs of the game.

But the top of the third was the last time the scoreboard changed for the Beachli nine. The end four innings were dominated by the Lumbermen.

In the bottom of the fourth Bernie Nicholls showed he was as good as a man as Wilson, stepping up to the plate and hitting a home run for the Woodies' first point in the game.

Although his teammates were unable to follow up Nicholls' score in the remainder of the fourth and fifth innings Lee Bull hit a solid homer in the sixth which also brought in a waiting Nicholls and earned the Lumbermen two more runs.

A final run by Duff Mitchell in the bottom of the seventh was insufficient to earn the game for Haliburton

Another "mighty Casey" sizes up the opposing softball tournament. The Oshawa team eventually won the series.

Kennedy's, Woodies pick up weekly wins

Kennedy Surplus met Curry Motors and Haliburton Lumber met the Legion in men's softball action last week.

The Kennedy team was narrowly defeated by the Motormen 7-6. However the Woodies downed the Legionnaires 9-2 in that contest.

The contest started well for the Kennedy team. The squad hit for three runs in the top of the first. Jeff Carpenter got to first on balls and Dwight Sisson brought him home and made the trip around the diamond himself on a solid home run.

Jerry Walker was next at bat for Kennedy and hit a three base smash and was brought home by Greg Bishop.

The next two innings were scoreless for both teams but the Motormen climbed up on the scoreboard in the third.

Chris Cowen took a base on balls and stole a base before completing the circuit on an abortive hit from Scheffe.

The fourth was scoreless for the Kennedy team but Curry Motors picked up two more runs as Andy Salvatori and John Parish ran the diamond.

Kennedy's Carpenter hit a triple in the fifth and was brought home by Sisson's sacrifice hit to second base.

In the bottom of the inning Scheffe picked up his base on a fielder's choice. He was brought home when Kevin O'Hara hit a home run.

Kennedy picked up another run in the sixth inning to tie the game.

In the eighth inning Derwin Barry picked up a run for Kennedy and Eric Martin picked up one for the Motormen to keep the game tied.

In the bottom of the ninth O'Hara hit for three bases and was brought across the plate by Martin's single to give the Motormen the run and the game.

The final score was Curry Motors 7, Kennedy Surplus 6.

In the Lumberman-Legion contest it was an unequal match from the beginning. Haliburton Lumber won the game 9-2.

Bob Johnston started the Woodies' batters off and hit a single. Bernie Nicholls hit a two RBI homer but the next three Lumbermen at bat could not follow up the edge.

In the top of the second two Lumbermen struck-out and the third hit a fly to third to end the half.

The bottom of the second saw Legionnaire Gene Newell hit a homer to put the team on the scoreboard.

The third saw Haliburton Lumber pick up two more runs as Nicholls repeated exactly his first inning performance.

The fourth was scoreless for both teams but the fifth saw Lumberman Johnston and Legionnaire Bob MacNaull pick up runs for their respective teams.

But it was the sixth inning that clinched the game for the Woodies, as they picked up four runs in their half.

Duff Mitchell started the ball rolling with a short single and was brought in almost immediately by Wayne Speicher's three base RBI.

Johnston brought in Speicher with a two base hit and Nicholls went to first on a grounder. Bull brought his teammates around the diamond with his double.

League lead still uncertain

With only two weeks left in regular season play for the ladies league there is still a real toss up as to standings in the top four places.

On July 5 there were five games on the go. West Guilford travelled to Wilberforce and came up on top 22-7. They were led by Michelle Rosenberg, Linda Sisson and Bethany Woods. Wilberforce had a good night from Lynne Storey and Jo Olszewski, Linda Morrison picked up the win.

Haliburton had their hands full on Monday against Carnarvon but finally came up on top 21-17.

The two Minden teams squared off in Minden and the Dixie Lee team came up on top 15-8. They were led by Nelda Cully and Helen Burk while the Juniors had a good night from Susan Kennedy and Terry Dillon. Anne Hewson picked up the win while Andrea Burk took the loss.

The two teams played again on Tuesday in Minden with the Dixie Lee team hanging on to win 10-8.

Marg Fielding had a home run for Dixie Lee to help with the win. The Dixie Lee were ahead 10-4 going into the seventh inning and the Juniors fought back with four runs and left the bases loaded. Nelda Cully picked up the win while Lori Dunham took the loss.

Wilberforce travelled to Carnarvon and came up on top 16-9. They were led by Lynne Storey and Jo Olszewski who had two home runs in the game. Carnarvon had a good night from Wanda Harrison and Joan Alger.

West Guilford and Haliburton played in West Guilford. The West Guilford ladies came up on top 8-4. They were led by Linda Morrison and Peggy Barry. Joan McKay was the winning pitcher while Nancy Maughan took the loss.

Don't forget the annual tournament which is being held in Minden on July 23, 24, and 25. The first game gets underway at 6:30 and is between West Guilford and Cobocok.

Local teams include West Guilford, Minden Dixie Lee and Wilberforce. Out of town teams are Lindsay, Gravenhurst, Cobocok, Norland, Cameron, Paudash, Little Britain, Bobcaygeon, Sunderland, Oakwood, and two teams from Bancroft.

Florist's team wins game

Last week's action saw Nancy's Flowers win their first game. Ron Perrin hit a grand slam home run to assist in their 16 runs over Bishop and Wilson's 5.

The Bantam team travelled to West Guilford for the third meeting between these two teams. It was a close, well played game with Haliburton coming out the winners 8-5.

Jack Snell gets ready to strike out another batter. The Rockcliffe Hustlers did not advance to the finals despite the best efforts of Snell and his team-mates.

Lumber, the final score was Beachli 8-4.

In the final Beachli game they met Curry Motors and went to defeat.

The Motormen went to the plate first and Barry Boice hit a single to get the ball rolling. A single from Art Dawson put Boice on second and John Parish's two base hit brought Boice around the rest of the diamond for the Curry squad.

drainage upgrading, realignment of horizontal and vertical curves and a wider driving surface. A new structure will be constructed for crossing the Gull River at Eagle Lake which is located at the north end of this project.

These improvements will significantly improve safety and traffic flow through this area.

Work on the project is scheduled to begin in July, 1982 with completion set for early summer, 1983.

K.J. Beamish Construction Co. Ltd. of Thornhill have been awarded a contract for $714,931.58 for resurfacing and rehabilitation on Highway 35, from 3.7 miles north of Norland, northerly to Highway 121 for 11.9 miles. This will include the rehabilitation of the north and south Gull River structures. The work should start this month.

John Eakins, Victoria-Haliburton MPP said, "The announcement of the awarding of two more highway projects means more employment opportunities in Victoria-Haliburton. There are more reconstruction works under way now than in the last several years. While I have continued to support and urge these proposals, it is encouraging to finally see them under way."

The county of Peterborough was requested to assume the Peter's Island Bridge situated on part lot 27, Concession 10 Galway into the county bridge system, assuming responsibility for all future operating and maintenance costs.

In the top of the second Chris Cowan hit a double and Peter Scheffee was hit by a pitch to give the Motormen two men on deck. Boice's second trip to the plate was productive as he hit for two bases and brought Cowan and Scheffee in for the team.

In the top of the second Dawson and Parish hit singles and John Mackie's double brought Dawson home and put the Motormen ahead by four points.

The bottom of the third was a whole different ball game as four of the Construction gang hit for runs.

Bob Nicholl started the Beachli sprint with a solid triple. Wilson hit for a single but Nicholl stood on third until Nicholls hit both him and Wilson home. Nicholls was brought in by Schell's double and Schell was taken across the plate by Hodgson.

But that was the last action for the Beachli nine in the inning or the game.

In the top of the fourth Motormen Boice and Kevin O'Hara hit the final two runs for their team and the game.

The last three innings were actionless for both teams.

Hustlers miss championship

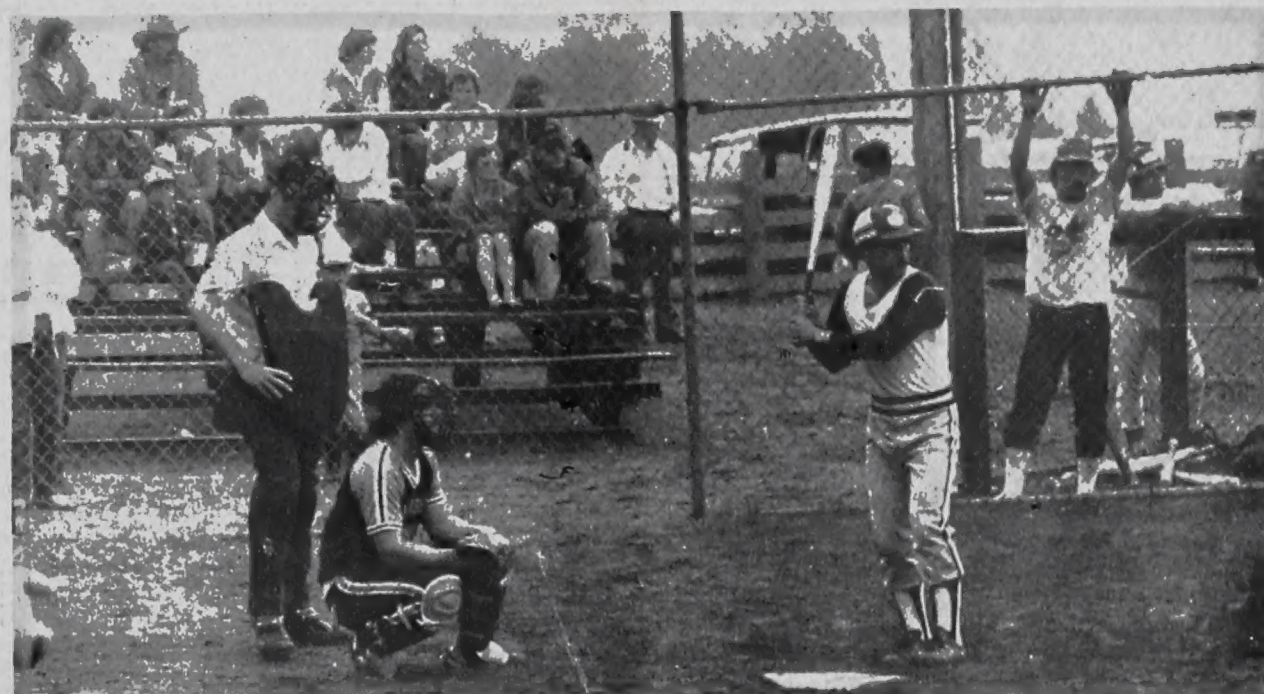

The Rockcliffe Hustlers did not manage to win the tenth annual Harcourt baseball tournament despite a valiant effort by the team members.

According to Gene Newell, "We had three good games but didn't manage to get to the finals."

The Minden team defeated its first two opponents handily, winning 3-1 over Bobcaygeon and 3-2 over Bancroft.

In their third match the Hustlers met Tweed but were unable to get by them, losing 2-0.

In the final match Tweed was defeated by Oshawa 6-2. The consolation match saw Goodwood defeat Fenelon Falls 4-3.

The batter, the catcher and the umpire, all tense, awaiting another blinding pitch at the Harcourt baseball tournament.

Wintario capital grants announced

Applications being accepted by cultural ministry until September 30

Applications are now being accepted for a new $20 million Wintario Capital Grants Program.

The program was announced simultaneously by Ontario Citizenship and Culture Minister Bruce McCaffrey and Tourism and Recreation Minister Reuben C. Baetz.

The application period ends next September, 30 and the new funds will be available next April 1.

The funds will be used to finance imaginative proposals for community theatres, art galleries, museums and libraries; for community centres and for restorations of historic buildings.

The Wintario Capital Grants Program provides support for community projects undertaken by non-profit organizations and municipalities that involve the renovation or construction of facilities for cultural and recreational uses.

Applications for this support are made through the ministry's local community programs offices.

In Northern and Eastern Ontario, the ministries will pay up to half the eligible costs of approved projects. In the rest of the province, the government's share will be one-third.

The costs eligible for government support will include 100 per cent of the value of donated labour and materials.

Ceilings will be placed on the government's share of any one project to help ensure that the greatest possible number of projects would receive support.

The ceiling will be $500,000 for major projects. In addition in the North and East, the ministries will pay an added 10 per cent of eligible costs over $1 million and, in the South and West, an added 10 per cent of eligible costs over $1.5 million.

Fight against DDT seems successful

In these days of toxic chemicals and acid rain, it is heartening to hear once in a while that we are actually making progress in some areas. Appropriately, one of the areas where we seem to be doing best involves the first common pesticide to be labelled as a danger - DDT.

It was the effects of DDT and its poisonous relatives that first sparked a hard look at how we use chemicals in our society. Spurred on by visions of a "silent spring", both the Canadian and U.S. governments banned the use of DDT in the late 1960's. But since the chemical is very long-lived, and had been used extensively to control insect pests since the Second World War, DDT residues continued to accumulate in many birds. Since the pesticides resulted in thin egg shells and fewer young birds, the population of large fish-eating birds plummeted.

Now, at least some of the most threatened populations are on the rise again. Bald eagles are listed as substantially more common now than in the 1960's by the U.S. Interior Department. Ospreys, which had dropped to 100 pairs along the Atlantic coast of the U.S. from over 1000, also seem to be making a comeback. Brown pelicans, one of the most endangered species, have in-pike, walleye and lake whitefish are occasionally tested. The group works mainly with the major forage of fish.

Fish are exposed to different levels of pH at different stages of life in both the laboratory and the field to provide the scientists with evidence for their conclusions.

When evidence is obtained, papers are written on the data and fed into a computer on the site which is hooked directly into a complex computer in Downsview.

Once results are gathered from both fields and the laboratory considerable time is spent determining if the laboratory findings are applicable in the field. If the results can be co-related, findings can be substantiated doubly.

While most studies are geared to acid precipitation, fish are tested for the effects caused by mercury, lead and cadmium in the lakes. Munro emphasizes that the testing could identify other causes of the acidification of the lakes or the stress placed on fish and that the tests are not narrowly designed so all findings will point to acid precipitation.

"We're not just looking at that. Fish are dying, we're looking at why they're dying," Munro explained.

The group just began its field testing experiments, which are part of a five year program, but Munro emphasizes that achievements are being made all the time. "We're always finding things, it's not a simple thing that's happening."

Not only are the scientists testing the effects on water resources but terrestrial and air resources are also being investigated.

A team of University of Toronto consultants are measuring the protections given to the forest and soil by the canopy of leaves that might affect the acid impact on the earth. Groups from four universities, McGill, Trent, Guelph and Toronto, have trailers at the site and are involved in the group investigations.

The laboratory has grown from the lakeshore capacity study in the 1970's, and most species of aquatic life are being tested for the effect of acid precipitation.

While the investigations are complex and the studies far from complete, the public are invited to learn more about the problems facing the environment by touring the complex. The provincial government's Information Services is providing the facility with an employee every Friday this summer to give the public tours of the laboratory.

The laboratory is located on the Bellwood Acres Road off Highway 117 near Dorset.

Happy Gang News

Monday was one of those perfect days of summer when everyone can be out doors. The children are out of school and anxious to tend the garden, letting mom rest. But somehow on our walk it is mom we see in the garden.

Many are at the cottage, beside the water, and as care free as possible. Little do we realize that a village like Haliburton is a miniature Canada made up of savers and spenders.

The spenders think they provide the money of business but the savers have to spend a lot too but not all of it. They manage to stay solvent (owe none) and therefore high interest rates and inflation are not so much of a problem. Both are affected by unemployment.

The spender keeps spending as money comes in and when hard times come he is the most affected. Working on a shoe string he suddenly finds the shoe string has let go.

After these hard times are over perhaps Canada will be a nation of savers, then happiness will come with thrift. No one should spend what they do not have.

It is surprising to us how quickly the soil around here dries despite the large amount of rain we got up to a very short time ago. It is powder dry for three inches and the roots of the flowers do not go much deeper. We will simply have to use the lawn hose.

Despite that our flowers now are the best we have ever had them, and are a good variety. The petunias can always be counted on to

St. George's to hear song written locally

Parishioners of St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton village will be entertained with an original song written by Dr. Joy Ballard, of Monmouth Township.

Dr. Ballard, who suffers from a serious illness, wrote the poem during one of many hospital visits. Bill Gliddon, of Haliburton set her enlightening words to music and the result will be heard by the parishioners in an open-air service, this Sunday.

Invited to sing the new song is Geoff Rison, a baritone soloist from the Timothy Eaton Memorial Church of Toronto.

put on a great show. The orange colour of the marigolds, of which we have plenty, are especially pretty and the plant itself very vigorous. Now the salvia is showing its colour as is the snapdragon, the balsam, the nasturtiums and impatiens.

Tuesday's bingo had Eva Howe and Betty Wise the volunteer helpers and Ray Smith doing all the calling. The truth of the matter is that it is really the only game we have that pleases so many and it would seem to be that way the world over.

These new electronic games have taken quite a hold of the small types and the youth and they are quite expensive. However, as time rolls on these fads gradually peter out and in the long run leave no lasting harm.

Tuesday afternoon the staff travelling to Toronto on a shopping binge and took the truck so they would have transportation.

Lo and behold they bought a beautiful table shuffle board for our use in improving our skills. We did have a ground shuffle board, built a few years ago at a cost of $1500. But the builder had a one track mind and wanted to be sure the rain did not puddle on it and so gave it a half inch side slope to ensure drainage, not knowing that the most important specification of a shuffle board is that it be level.

The result has been that it is useless for shuffle board, but the Haliburton labor who built it were paid.

This beautiful new board while waiting for a suitable installation inside was temporarily left outside under the awning. Lo and behold some pop - thirsty fellows have already started throwing their empties on this board even though the management has provided other receptacles. We trust that when it is installed inside that those fellows will not regard it to be another garbage dump or ash tray.

On our walk on Wednesday along Park over to Victoria and Pine there was a group of artists at work painting one of the buildings on the west side of Pine: Bank's general store or one of the buildings between the store and Victoria.

The dozen were each so intent on their work they were not speaking. One, whom we asked if they were artists, agreed that they were.

They did not ask but we could have placed them on Extencicare's front door step and showed them that vista down Park Street fading away in the distance to infinity an artist's delight if painting perspective. It was a curious encounter, one that we enjoyed very much.

Thursday we unearthed the litterbug who was leaving pop cans, cigarette butts and lawn furniture all over the place and received assurances that as of now they would do no more litter-bugging. Fair enough?

Also, we learned that the shuffleboard will not be installed inside but will be left where it is for the enjoyment of all of us. It is a donation from the residents of Extencicare/North York to the residents of Extencicare, Haliburton.

No fruit are forming on the cherry tomatoes yet.

The Rev. John Phillips, pastor of St. George's Anglican Church in Haliburton was the "sky pilot" for the Friday morning devotional period. He sang to his own piano accompaniment, a remarkable achievement. The theme was that we always have a friend in Jesus, a friend who is always available and always ready to grant any request we make. The after service has become quite an institution with the visiting pastor encouraged to help himself and others. We may make a pertinent observation here that could be construed as a pun, "the Happy Gang love a Happy laugh".

Two movies were shown in the afternoon. The first was "Big Henry and the Polka Dot Kid", illustrating the close attachment between an orphaned teenage boy and a dog that he was told was sick and should be put away. This boy lived with a stern but a quite understanding uncle. The second was about Alakemeg, Northern Manitoba. It was nice to hear at last from the adjoining province. As a part of their tourism, fisherman-tourists are assigned to wilderness professional fishermen who know that sport from a to z. An unusual practice in Manitoba is to use hooks without barbs and unless the fish is to be eaten it is freed and the barbless hooks do it no harm. Barbless hooks, it has been found, invariably kill the fish even if it is released.

We do not think our prime minister should have aired a curse Saturday evening. He should know that the majority of Canadians revere our heavenly Father and if any power will get us safely out of the mess we are in it Him.

Vera Brooklin receives a plaque in honour of her 75 years as a church organist. The Tory Hill United Church made the presentation.

Minden summer band gets name to reflect summer

by WENDY LAKING

Hear ye, Hear ye! This is to announce that the former Minden Summer Band is now to be known as "The Minden Molto Maestros" (very majestic) or for ease of pronunciation "The Triple M's".

Our first two rehearsals were a great success. Enthusiasm abounds within our group of seventeen musicians and we are busy working on new repertoire for our concerts scheduled at the end of August.

The Dixieland Band from

Haliburton Highlands Secondary School will also be performing at that time.

The members of the Triple M's are: Ronni Rendall and Sylvia Wingat on flute, Leigh Amyotte, Laura Cross, Julia Holiday-Rhodes, Carole Lacey and Michelle Warnes on clarinet, Gail Barnhart, Richard Beers and Tom Stephen on alto sax.

In our brass section we have: Ian Hicks, Graham Robinson and Gord Wood on trumpet, Brad Archer on trombone, Corinne Zorjen on baritone, and David Schell on the tuba.

Stay tuned for more musical notes!

The Young Artists' Summer Programme is now officially underway. The program, which operates from 1 - 4 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays, offers crafts supervised by Carol Lee and Marie Chambers, Drama by Marilyn Thayer and a sing-song led by Wendy Laking.

Our first craft day, which was last Wednesday, was spent making our own "Craft Day" flag. The flag will be used to indicate that there will be a craft lesson that afternoon in the park. The 13 children that came to our opening day enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

We invite children between the age of 6 and 13 to participate. The programme takes place in Head Lake Park near the Raily End Gallery and is sponsored by the Ministry of Employment and Immigration.

With the help of many local businesses and individuals the programme has proved to be a success. We thank these people for their donations of material. They were much needed and greatly appreciated. Any further donations will be eagerly received and put to good use.

Mrs. Curry's son, who's name is Fred Grier, has retired from General Electric after forty long years, and took his mother out to dinner this Sunday. Where they were driving, they didn't say.

It was a really nice thing to do. She gets lonely sometimes and feeling quite blue.

It was nice to have Rev. Burgess back at Hyland Crest. The Thompsons have filled in for him, and gave us of their best. Mrs. Burgess goes into hospital this Tuesday, to have her foot straightened, so she can walk the straight and narrow way.

We trust she will be truly blessed, and the operation a real success.

Doris is back with us again, after a week's holiday. Linda did a super job while her sister was away.

We see our gazebo is taking shape at last. I hope they hurry up and do the job real fast.

We have a new part-time maintenance man, who's name is Gary Foster. When he was courting the gal, who is now his wife, he thought that he had lost her.

We watched three interesting movies here Monday night.

It's nice to have Peter Fearrey back with us again. When he left us he was in real pain.

Rev. George Elliott held a real nice communion service in the chapel this sixth day of July. Few men attended - I don't know just why. Fred Ballard played the music. We can always depend on Fred.

We had a barbeque at noon on a lovely July day. Hamburgs, hot dogs, soft drinks and ice cream, and we didn't have to pay.

Earle Cooper couldn't come to play the music Tuesday night, so he sent his better half along to do the job up right.

She played some fine selections, and entertained us fine. We would welcome Elinor back to entertain us any time.

Wednesday afternoon the ladies auxiliary held their bake sale, strawberry, tea, and bazaar.

They were hoping the people would come from near and far. But the weather was so humid and so blooming hot, they didn't care, whether they came out or not. I knew our girls were disappointed. They've been working really hard, making lovely dolls and cushions, knitting afghans by the yard.

The Geleert ladies served us lunch this Thursday afternoon. When it was all served so nicely, Doris said let's play them a tune.

So Doris on the piano, and I the harmonica did play. Ruby Francis and Linda danced around the table. It made me think of the good old days, when we were young and able.

It is sing-song time again this Friday afternoon. Grace Cobourn and Fred Ballard came to play, and sing some tunes. Grace led in a real sing-song all those that were on hand. When she sang "Galway Boy", and "He's got the whole world in his hand".

We thank you both for coming each Friday afternoon to lead us in the singing, and play some merry tunes.

Question: Where can I get information on fabric care labels? I bought a new dress, but don't know what the symbol on the label means and am afraid to wash it.

Answer: The Ministry of Consumer and Corporate Affairs prepared a plasticized card suitable for putting near laundry equipment. The card shows the symbols and indicates their meaning for washing, bleaching, drying, ironing, and dry cleaning your textiles. The cards can be picked up at the Haliburton County Information Centre, free of charge.

tax on labour for repairs and maintenance of personal property.

Session Ends

The Ontario Legislature has now recessed for the summer, and will reconvene on October 12. Legislation was passed on a number of questions, during this session, including: extension of the 7 per cent Retail Sales Tax to inexpensive restaurant meals, personal hygiene items, labour on repairs, and even pets; mandatory automobile restraints for children; licence plates to stay with the owner rather than the vehicle, and annual registration lineups to be replaced by a computerized system; stricter rules on immunization of schoolchildren against childhood diseases; and the term of office for municipal officials to be extended from two to three years, starting this November.

Retail Sales Tax

During two weeks of public hearings before the resources development committee views were aired by scores of representatives of businesses, municipalities, school boards, universities, labour, senior citizens' and women's groups.

Extension of the sales tax to previously exempted items was denounced as discriminatory and onerous. Municipalities and school boards opposed the legislation because it passes on to them new costs, which they have been unable to budget for through property tax increases for this year. With a Conservative majority, the committee defeated 15 Liberal amendments which would have rolled back the tax on many of the items to which it was extended on May 13.

The Provincial Treasurer told the committee that he had been alerted to a number of potential problems which might be dealt with in the law's regulations. For example, universities will be given a full rebate for the 7 per cent tax they must now pay on purchases of research equipment.

Beer in the Ball Park

The government has decided to allow beer to be sold during professional sporting events at Toronto's Exhibition Stadium, Hamilton's Ivor Wynne Stadium and Ottawa's Lansdowne Park. According to the Minister of Consumer and Commercial Relations, sale of beer will be permitted on a test basis until the end of 1983, at which time the province will decide if it should continue.

If police or liquor inspectors report that beer-drinking fans get carried away and offend others, the province will consider ending the experiment.

Beer sales will only be permitted at professional sporting events, such as Blue Jays baseball games, Blizzard soccer games and Canadian Football League games, and will be strictly controlled.

Beer will be sold at refreshment booths only, in paper cups, two to a customer. The policy may be in effect within two to three weeks, when the Cabinet has passed the regulation, stadiums have made official requests, and municipal councils have made a ruling.

Suncor

A poll recently published in The Toronto Star showed 55 per cent of Metro residents surveyed thought the Suncor deal was a "bad thing" for Ontario, compared with 57 per cent in a similar poll which considered it a "good thing" last Fall.

The Minister of Energy maintains that the $650 million purchase of 25 per cent of the company was sound. He predicted the poll would have shown different results if the Canadianization of Suncor had been completed, and the government is still confident that a Canadian buyer will be found to purchase another 26 per cent of the company, making it a Canadian firm and eligible for federal tax incentives.

Consumers' Gas

The Minister of Energy has stated that he cannot and will not send a representative to Ontario Energy Board hearings this summer on the proposed Consumers' Gas price increases.

The company has proposed a minimum monthly charge of $18.30, up from $6.27, and a 35 per cent hike on rates for January, February and March.

Niagara area consumers have protested the increases, with a 38,000 signature petition. Area MPPs, including Liberals Vince Kerrio of Niagara Falls, and Ray Haggerty of Erie, have swamped the Minister - himself representing a Niagara area riding - with complaints about his refusal to send a representative to board hearings.

From the chamber

If the budget had taken the "bull by the horns" now, instead of setting up committees to study ideas next fall, this summer may have been a more prosperous one for many.

In the meantime many tourist operators are reporting a good number of late bookings still coming in to take the place of cancellations. There are still lots of prospective visitors who haven't made decisions about their holidays and those who are advertising to them are receiving good response.

Wilberforce - Site of National Hillclimbing Event

The Canadian National Hillclimbing Championship for motorcycles will be held in Wilberforce on August 29 at the Wilberforce Ski Resort.

John Williams, the world champion for the past five years, has teamed up with property owner Bill Thomas to bring this major event to the area and it promises to be one of the most exciting competitions we have yet seen in the county.

Hillclimbing is done on huge specially built six cylinder machines that reach speeds of over 100 miles per hour while ascending on almost vertical hill and there's a thrill a minute. The championships have been held in the past in the Hockley Valley and have drawn crowds of almost 5,000 spectators. Major TV coverage is also anticipated.

Bill is developing his property to also accommodate dirt bikes and the various forms of 4 wheel drive vehicles that are now becoming so popular. A motorcross flat track is now nearing completion and will be in operation within a week.

A course for the "4x4's" has been laid out and marked and is ready to be put to the test.

Many local residents have voiced concern about these new threats to our environment but just like snowmobiles they will create no problems if they can be directed to specific trails or facilities that are designed to accommodate them.

There is, of course, a fee for the use of Bill's property, which we expect the users will gladly pay in order to pursue their hobby without antagonizing anyone.

New Members

We were pleased to attend the official opening of the "Cardiff Food Fair" on Highway 121 at the "Townsite of Cardiff" last week.

The new facility provides the local residents with a modern supermarket that can compete with any of the chains for convenience and price in addition features a unique snack bar with seating either inside or on the lawn.

The new centre was created by Mr. and Mrs.

Joe Paul and is being managed by Rob Harrington. If the store is supported as well as Joe anticipates he intends to add more stores to it to provide such services as a hardware and laundromat.

Rob also indicated that they are interested in providing space for a farmer's market on week-ends if they can contact enough interested participants.

In nearby Wilberforce we are also pleased to welcome the new Wilberforce I.G.A. as a new member. It is located just west of the main street adjacent to the Bank and L.C.B.O. This bright new facility is managed by Kerry Barbour who is still looking forward to meeting many of the summer residents for the first time.

Just opposite Silent Lake Park on Highway 28 is the Wildwood Restaurant. This impressive building has been closed for almost two years, the later part of this period it was undergoing extensive renovations under the guidance of present owner Gordon Skinner.

Gordon recently retired after a successful career in various segments of the automotive industry and has extensive long range plans for this property.

At this time the dining room is open and will be featuring special theme smorgasbords on specific nights. They have already gained an excellent reputation for their meals in the short time since they re-opened.

Thanks

Our new addition at the Welcome Centre is finally reaching the stage that we can show some pride in the building and provide better facilities to the public. We thank those that provided the initial work but the painting and other final touches are also very important.

We thank Blacks Hardware and Minden Home Hardware for donating paint and stain and our travel counsellors Linda and Suzie, for applying it. Thanks also to the county and the municipality for their cooperation and the Minden Horticultural Society for the addition of the flowers. Don Nye of Woodland Graphics topped it all off with a beautiful sign featuring a map of the County.

Now it's done, drop in and see it and pick up some literature on Haliburton plus other parts of Ontario.

Don't Forget

The Country Good Times are on this week-end in Wilberforce featuring a parade, beauty contest, talent contest, ball tournament, midway, dances and beer gardens. Don't miss it! It gets to be more fun every year.

Report from Parliament

The June 28 budget update included some measures designed to supposedly assist homeowners and the housing industry in general. My last Report From Parliament discussed some of these in brief.

As there is considerable confusion as to which programs were created by the budget and which already existed or were slightly changed by the budget, it may be worthwhile to list the programs.

Canadian Home Renovation Plan (CHRP)

CHRP offers forgivable loans to a maximum of $3,000 to homeowners to cover up to 30 per cent of the cost of renovations and improvements. To be eligible you must: own your own home, use it as your principle residence, plan to own and occupy it for at least one year after the work is completed, plan to spend at least $2,500 on renovations, provide for the balance of the costs not covered and spend a minimum of one-third of your total renovation costs on contracted labour.

If your total household income is $30,000 or less, you are eligible for a loan to cover 30 per cent of the total cost of renovation. If your total income is more than $30,000, the forgivable loan is reduced by 5 per cent for every additional $1,000 of income over $30,000. If your total income is more than $48,000, you are not eligible for a loan.

The June 28 budget doubled the funds allocated to the program.

Canada Mortgage Renewal Plan

Before June 28 homeowners renewing mortgages at interest rates which required the expenditure of more than 30 per cent of income in monthly payments could defer the payment of interest to the lender. Where the homeowner's equity in the property was less than five per cent they could receive an outright grant of up to $3,000, instead of an interest-deferral.

Measures were introduced in the budget which eliminated the interest deferral plan and all qualified homeowners will now get the outright grant. Homeowners who have been getting the interest deferral guarantee will get the outright grant, regardless of the amount of their equity.

To be eligible for the new grant you must: own a single detached home, semi-detached home, condominium, half a duplex, or one-third of a triplex, and be required to pay in excess of 30 per cent of your total household pre-tax income toward your renewed mortgage.

Applications must be made through any lender certified by CMHC to participate in this Plan.

Canadian Homeownership Stimulation Plan (CHOSP)

This is the only concrete plan introduced on June 28. It provides a $3,000 grant to assist in the purchase of a new home (condominium, row-housing, duplex, triplex, semi-detached, single-detached). In the case of first-time home buyers, it can apply to an existing home, as well as a new one.

To be eligible, first-time buyers of existing housing must purchase before the end of 1982. Buyers of new housing will have until the end of 1983. New housing will include houses that are already built, but have never been occupied as well as houses started before the end of 1982. DISTRICT NEWS

Chatting with Irene by Irene Moore

It did it again. The weather I mean, checking the Almanac, it says that from the 12 to the 15 there will be violent storms in Ontario, it seems they started a bit early in some places.

Here in Minden we were very lucky last week when the storm by-passed us, but up at Halls Lake the power was off in some places for nearly 20 hours. At West Guilford it was just like a tornado, so I was told.

Mrs. Ray Rivers of Downsview spent the week-end with her mother Mrs. Arnold Coulter.

The Anglican Church women held a very successful bazaar and tea last Saturday, the winner of the quilt was Carol Henderson of Oakville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Cox, Cora Hewitt, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson, and Vera Cowan, attended the wedding of Ronald Cowan and Helen O'Toole in Ebenezer United Church, last Saturday. The dance was held at Elmvale, where the couple will be living.

Annie Dawson of Toronto visited with Dora Dawson last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyne Cox of Port Perry are spending several weeks at their home in Minden.

The Minden museum committee are having a bake sale at 10 a.m. in front of the Sandalwood shop on July 28. All donations will be gratefully accepted.

Cairine Figuerido and daughters are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. McCarey. They are from Binghamton, New York.

A number of people from Haliburton county, and other areas close-by, went to the Mohawk Jamboree last week-end. What they heard they enjoyed, but the main attraction did not show up and the Sunday performance was cancelled.

These people paid for two days, but to date have had no refund, this does not give the Jamboree a good name. We hope that this is straightened out.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Brownridge of Scarborough spent the week-end at their cottage.

On July 22, the Deckhands will be showing puppets at the Minden library at 3 p.m.

Well, I am still doing the column, for how long I do not know. I will give you notice in lots of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Dawkins of Rexdale spent the week-end at their cottage.

Sunday, July 18, the drive-in movie at the Allsaw Pentecostal Church will be "A Stranger in my Forest."

Last Sunday Cristina Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cox had a birthday party with many of her friends present.

The gallery will be showing the work of Mr. Bruce Mills for the next few weeks.

Clara Coulter of Peterborough is visiting with Maud Coulter.

Here is a recipe for carrot pickles: 1 1/2 cups water, 2-3 bunches small carrots, 1 cup sugar, 1 stick cinnamon, 2 cups vinegar, 1 tsp. mixed pickling spices, 1 tsp. canning salt. Cook the carrots until tender, drain and remove skins. Leave the small carrots whole, cut larger ones into lengths desired. Combine the sugar, vinegar, water and salt; tie the spices into a cheesecloth bag, add vinegar to the mixture and boil 5-8 minutes.

While mixture is boiling, pack carrots into hot jars, leaving a quarter of the jar for head space. Remove the spice bag from liquid and pour the boiling hot mixture over the carrots. Adjust the caps and process in a boiling bath for 30 minutes. Yields 3 pints.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Cox and family of Peterborough spent Sunday with the Lyman Cox's and Joel is staying with relatives for this week.

The United Church Women are holding a bazaar and bake sale on the Bank lawn on July 28, so hold that date in mind, please.

The Minden Rotary carnival will be held the end of this month, July 28 and 29.

St. Stephen's Anglican Church women will be holding their annual bazaar on July 28 at Club 35 starting at 3 p.m.

Adios and take care now.

The judge keeps a close eye on a competitor and his pony team at the Norland horse-pull. The annual event attracted about 200 people in the early afternoon.

Gayle and Bill Thrift, with their two daughters, Karin and Samantha, of Spruce Grove, Alta., are visiting Gayle's parents, Ileen and Ivan Hunter.

Ruby Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Switzer attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Cheryl Maxwell, to Richard Howe at Lakeside Baptist Church, in Haliburton, last Saturday. The reception and dance followed at the community centre in West Guilford.

Rebecca and Al McGarity, with their family and friends, of Port Dover, spent last week-end with Rebecca's mother, Nora Carey.

An "Experience 82" programme, sponsored by Glamorgan township recreation and community centre committee and the Ministry of Tourism and Culture began July 5 and will continue until August 6 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Glamorgan community centre.

This programme includes swimming lessons under a qualified instructor, Jim Lees, as well as fun when the children "learn and do". Adult volunteers to assist in field trips or an overnight campout would be much appreciated.

Norma Fotheringham is a patient in Peterborough Civic Hospital where she is undergoing tests. We hope to see her home again soon with a favourable report.

Stan Maxwell, with his wife and son Scott, of Kamistiquia, spent a few days holiday with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Dovell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mackey of St. Catharines, and Murray Pickens of B.C. are visiting their mother, Mae Pickens, and sister, Vanieta.

The township of Glamorgan parks and recreation committee will present their annual "Gooderham Horseshoe Days" July 30, 31 and August 1. Horseshoe pitching is the feature event Friday and Saturday afternoons.

Other attractions are the amateur show and men's softball on Saturday afternoon while a tug-of-war and demolition derby promise excitement Sunday afternoon.

A live band, the Ver-satiles, will provide music Friday evening. The same band will play for the "family dance" on Saturday night.

The men's baseball games are played each Sunday. On July 4 the local team won when they played Galway. On July 18 they meet Snowdon at Irondale.

This is the last game before the playoffs start August 8. The men will also be playing August at the Gooderham Horseshoe Days so be sure to lend them your support there.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Shaw of Cornwall called on Mr.

and Mrs. Gordon Barr last week.

Gooderham United Church women met at the summer home of Miss Clara Newstead and Miss Margaret Hopkinson last Friday. The topic was "Love", taken by Mrs. Grace Billings. During the business period president Pat Thornett informed the group that this would be the last meeting over which she would be presiding, since she and her husband would be moving to Minden. She will be greatly missed.

Grace Billings, vice president, will carry on as president until the election of officers in November.

The August meeting will be hosted by Helen McMullen at her summer home on Pine Lake.

Saturday, July 3 guests of Mary L. and John Pyke in Norland, were Betty Noel of Toronto and Lucy Noel of Carbonear, Newfoundland.

Joan, Harold, Mike and Jennifer Mills and Don Fraser, all of Pickering were holiday week-end guests of Win and Bill Wilson of Kinmount.

I will try to bring you coming events at the Balsam Lake Provincial Park as I hear of them and hope you'll try to attend. With a park such as this in our midst why spend money on travel?

The following is a list of events the Kinmount Legion has planned: July 14 a euchre and cribbage night beginning at 8 p.m. There will be a 75 cent admission and there will be lunch and prizes.

On July 17, a bake sale and flea market will be held at 9 a.m. on the main street. Also on July 17, a rummage sale will be held in the Legion Hall at 11 a.m.

On July 21, a fun bingo match will take place at 8 p.m. There will be a 75 cent admission charge.

On July 24 there will be a free dance at 9 p.m. with lunch and refreshments. It was nice to see Bill Menard home from hospital and mobile again.

Congratulations to the Kinmount Orioles mixed lob ball team who are the champions for the second year in a row after beating out Ormell's, Cobocok, Manilla and Oakwood at Norland on Saturday.

It was a four game tournament and 12 teams were involved. I'm told that some of those "big bruisers" were hitting the balls into and over the fence and when a special award of a kit bag was to be presented to the most valuable player some of these "hulks" were standing and waiting to see which of them had won.

They stood in shocked silence when the title was bestowed upon (under 100 lb) Dixie Collins of Bobcaygeon.

One of the gentleman players confided to me that little Dixie had covered some of his bloopers and he for one was sure pleased to see the little girl win the title.

It was an all-round good tournament.

Ida and Clyde Pardy of Cobocok were guests of Mary L. and John Pyke in Norland on July 5.

Sympathy goes out at this time to the family and friends of Carl McGee, age 13 years, of Donglas who died last week and to the family and friends of Grace Irene Simmons, who died at Minden Red Cross Hospital, Tuesday, July 6.

Kim Newman is now home from hospital following a tonsilectomy.

Elizabeth Fryer of Norland and her sister-in-law, Kay Evans, spent a few days at Claremont.

Two accidents occurred just a few days apart when two ladies lost control of their cars and crashed. Both were reported dead at the scene.

The first was driving towards Kinmount on 121 and the second was near Eagle Lake during a severe storm.

While we were out at our ceramics class last Wednesday evening, a young lady came in and reported just having seen a man floating down the Gull River. Since then, the dead man was identified as Mr. McCracken of Cobocok, he was about 62 years of age.

I was sorry to hear Nora Crego is presently a hospital patient. Get well soon, Nora, you're missed at bingo.

Recently I was given a number of recipes to share with you. This week the recipe is from Carol McIlwaine of Co. Antrim, Northern Ireland and it's called "Farmhouse Loaf". Take, 150g self raising flour (6 Oz), 50g fruit (2 oz), 1 egg, 3 tbsp. milk. Method: Set oven 180 degrees Celsius - 375 degrees Fahrenheit. Sieve the flour and rub in the margarine. Add sugar, spice and fruit. Mix with egg and milk. Put into a greased loaf tin and bake 30 - 40 minutes. Turn out and cool on a wire tray.

Stay well and be here next week to hear all about the mammoth rummage sale sponsored by the three Anglican churches at Irondale, Burnt River and Kinmount and held at our Community Hall, Saturday, July 10.

Happy birthday to Georgina Young.

On Monday, a cottager from Downsview was found dead in his cottage, and the body was taken to Ross Memorial Hospital, then on to Toronto to the forensic laboratory to determine cause of death.

On Wednesday evening a body floated down the river, and came near Thompson's dock at the marina where it was recovered.

Police determined Mr. McCracken had fallen from the dam into the river.

This level is greater than the 10-year average for that date by 8.5 per cent and is the remnant of heavy rains received about three weeks ago.

Dry weather is now resulting in near-normal rates of History available at library

Last year, when Monmouth Township celebrated its centennial the area's history was depicted in a professionally written book, Monmouth Township 1881-1981.

However, there is another book in the community's library that elaborates on the history of the township at the 50 year mark.

Mustard Plasters and Hand Cars, written by Gertrude LeRoy Miller, centres on the history of the township up to 1931.

LeRoy-Miller recounts her experiences as the only nurse serving at the Red Cross Outpost Hospital in Wilberforce in 1930. Along with her story, the author has inserted pencil drawings of the area and the buildings of the day.

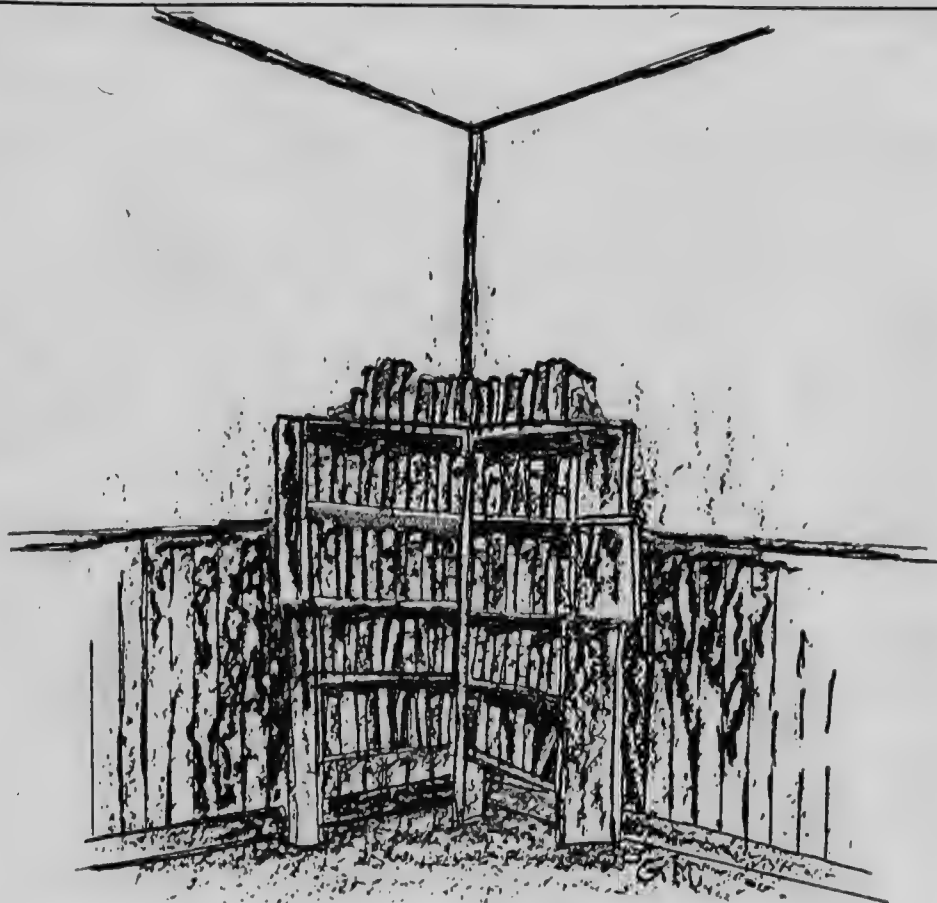

She recounts births, names of the early pioneers, life at the outpost and long trips on the the outpost and lumber camps, and long trips on the I.B.&O railroad.

The book is prepared in a loose leaf form and is easy to read in ordinary typewriter script. It may not be of a professional nature in its published form but the insight it offers into the history of the area makes reading it enjoyable.

Mustard Plasters and Hand Cars can be borrowed from the Monmouth library in Wilberforce.

LeRoy-Miller now lives in London, Ontario.

Sherborne council meets

At the last regular meeting of the council of the United Townships of Sherborne, McClintock, and Livingstone, the following matters were discussed:

The reeve Fred Baum, discussed with council members the outcome of a conversation with the Chamber of Commerce in Haliburton dealing with a breakdown on membership fees for the year 1982. It was suggested that 80 per cent would be allocated to the tourist and convention bureau and 20 per cent to Chamber of Commerce administration.

Road Superintendent Delbert Page was called into council to give his report to the members.

Council approved a road voucher in the amount of $10,909.46 for the month of May, 1982.

Approval of the 1982 supplementary subsidy allocation was reported to council in the amount of $23,000. These funds are for a used grader and may not be used for other subsidizable work.

The road superintendent indicated to members that the oiling of township roads will be undertaken as soon as possible.

Council recommended consent be granted to land severance application H-216/81, lands located on Part Lots 8 and 9 - Concession 4, Livingstone, subject to Ministry of the Environment approval on both severed and retained parcels.

Hello neighbours! Another week of news in digest form from your local reporter.

This week past will lay heavily on the hearts of many local people, with the death of two area people. Jack Mawbey, age 37, died on July 4, and Irene Sawyer, age 57, died due to a truck accident on July 7. This reporter's deepest sympathy goes out to the relatives and friends of the above mentioned people.

The Fort Irwin Residents Association will be holding their bake and craft sale on made for the kiddies by filling empty ice cream cones with cake mix batter and baking for 20-25 minutes in the oven at the temperature suggested on box. Ice with whipped cream or other icing and sprinkle with any decorations you wish. They are easy to handle and make few crumbs.

Farm News

Across Ontario 1118 farmers have had their applications for assistance under the Ontario Farm Adjustment Assistance Programme approved by the middle of June. All of these farmers are receiving the interest reduction grants of five per cent on their floating rate loans at their banks. Their authorized lines of credit total millions of dollars.

This is a cooperative program between the Ontario Ministry of Agriculture and Food and the banks and financial institutions in the Province.

The program is of particular help to young and beginning farmers, with almost half of those receiving assistance being under 35 years of age. More than 80 per cent of the applicants have annual farm production valued at over $50,000.

Any farmers wishing more information on the farm adjustment assistance program should contact their local banker or their County Agricultural Office.

Rental obligation, rights information available

The task of providing information to landlords and tenants about their legal rights and obligations, presently handled in some areas of the province by municipal landlord and tenant advisory bureaux, will be assumed by the Provincial Government, Ontario Consumer and Commercial Relations Minister Robert Elgie announced recently.

Landlord and tenant inquiries will be handled by the Provincial Government's Rent Review agency in addition to its regular duties. The Residential Tenancy

Guilford Pulse Beat

Saturday, July 17 at Heinz Enterprise at Fort Irwin.

The F.I.R.A. will also be selling tickets for the prize winning quilt and hand carved doll cradle complete with dressed doll, that will make any little girl proud.

Be sure to attend this event if at all possible.

The Haliburton Lake Cottage Owners Association are holding their weekly euchre club every Wednesday night, and Thursday nights are scheduled for bridge games. Newcomers are welcomed to join in at the Fort Irwin Community Centre.

Last Wednesday's violent storm caused quite a bit of havoc in the area.

Hydro failures, washed out roads, trees broken and uprooted caused quite a concern for cottagers as well as local residents. Cottagers on Maple Lake were without power until 10:30 p.m. after a twister "touched" down between Carnarvon and West Guilford.

This same twister probably caused the damage to Camp Northland between Eagle Lake and Fort Irwin. The young people of the camp were quite frightened with all the wind, rain, thunder and lightning shaking the camp and breaking the trees like matchsticks.

Thank the Lord! No serious injuries or destruction of property were reported.

The West Guilford ladies softball team defeated Wilberforce with a 22 to 7 victory.

That game was played on Wilberforce's turf Monday, July 5.

The W.G. gals also were victorious over Haliburton, last Tuesday, final score West Guilford 8, Haliburton 4. That game was played on the West Guilford's diamond.

Congratulations to the W.G. gals on two more wins.

My comment on the team spirit of the softball team's flea market has "ruffled" feathers on some local people. Even though many of the team members could be excused because of work, illness, or what have you, it seems a shame that their spouses or their boyfriends could not be "drafted" to watch the tables, while many members were involved with the outside events.

The Fort Irwin men are always on hand to pitch in with their help when needed, and they do quite well in all their projects. Perhaps rescheduling of members with events would be a better solution to this problem.

A tip of the "Good Neighbour" hat is due to Merrie Barry, and Gail Teasdale, for taking time out from their busy schedule, July 1, to assist our local girl champion, Corinne Handy, on her Pine Lake Swim.

Merrie and Gail were the oarsperson and spotter for Corinne and she would like to thank them for their help and promises she will do better next year. Corinne placed second in that event and is one young gal that puts her heart in every effort.

Come on guys and gals! I need some household or shop hints for my column. Call me at 754-2854 with your donation.

Reservoir flows are increased above minimum in several of the tributaries so that lakes such as Shadow, Maple and Beach, where levels depend on the flow should also be enjoying near optimum levels, somewhat less than two weeks when excess water was being dumped to prevent shoreline damage.

Forestry program announced

Federal Environment Minister John Roberts has announced that a committee chaired by the Canadian Forestry Service has been set up in every province to implement a programme that will provide $140 million in UIC funds to stimulate employment in the forest sector.

In addition to the augmented unemployment benefits, Mr. Roberts said that $34.5 million in new funds would be made available for overhead and other project costs associated with the forestry development program.

It is hoped the provision of this money to cover overhead and field cost needs will contribute greatly to the success of the program.

The federal government plans to invest up to $220 million over the next two years to support employment activities aimed at developing Canada's forest and fish stocks.

If suitable forestry projects are developed up to 10,000 Canadians across the country would be employed in activities such as silviculture, reforestation and forest protection.

In order to qualify for assistance under the forestry employment stimulation program, proposals must contain the recommendation of the advisory committee.

Birds of prey in danger

creased to 5000 pairs from a low of 1100-1200.

Biologists hope that most of the birds of prey can recover completely by the end of the century. But some questions still remain. The peregrine falcon, for example, is still very rare despite an extensive program of releasing young raised in captivity. In their case, the major problem appears to be continued use of DDT on their wintering grounds in South and Central America.

The health of Ontario's peregrines will be checked this week-end, when the Federation of Ontario Naturalists sponsors a survey of previous nest sites in Algonquin Park. Teams of volunteers will watch for signs of activity at each potential site, in the hope that released young birds will return to nest. As the legacy from the DDT era sinks further behind us each year, our hopes grow stronger that Ontario will once again become home to the world's fastest bird.

Army to test personnel

Veterans Affairs Minister W. Bennett Campbell today announced he has engaged the Department of Epidemiology and Community Medicine at the University of Ottawa to do an independent study into the effects of radiation exposure on Armed Forces personnel.

The study will be undertaken immediately and will address itself to those members of the Armed Forces involved in decontamination duties at Chalk River in 1953 and 1958, and those who witnessed atomic bomb testing in Nevada and Australia during the 1950's.

The study will provide information that will enable the Canadian Pension Commission, which is responsible for adjudicating disability pension claims relating to military service, to have a more complete body of scientific and medical evidence available upon which to base its decisions.

Mr. Campbell noted the concern expressed in recent months by former Canadian Forces personnel regarding the possible health hazards resulting from nuclear radiation.

Dr. S. Raman, an epidemiologist / biostatistician with experience in environmental epidemiology and radiation exposure, will head the team of investigators.

The results of the study are expected to be available in approximately six months.

funds in order to carry out the expanded duties.

Dr. Elgie noted that many of the inquiries received by municipal bureaux concern disputes which fall under the Landlord and Tenant Act, and involve such matters as evictions, security deposits, and the maintenance and repair responsibilities of landlords and tenants.

Dr. Elgie said he has written to the head of each municipality which operates a landlord and tenant advisory service to advise them of the Government's plan, and said he expects they will welcome the proposal. He said the Commission will be in touch with the municipalities in the next few months to make arrangements for the implementation of the new service. The service is expected to be implemented by September 1, 1982.
